

CYRIL KENNETH BIRD (FOUGASSE)

1889 – 1965

Nobody cares what the driver does—

—provided he doesn't reverse !

Famous cartoonist who did early motoring cartoons. He did a series of humorous drawings in 1935 for Cleveland Discol. Best known for his strip cartoons with simple line artwork. He produced the famous Second World War posters of 'Careless Talk Costs lives'. Was Editor for Punch magazine 1949 to 1953 after being Art Editor in 1937. A book of his motoring cartoons 'You Have Been Warned – A Complete Guide to the Road' was published in 1935 and another book 'The Luck of the Draw' contains several motoring cartoons.

FURTHER REFERENCES

You Have Been Warned by Fougasse and McCullough published Methuen and subsequent editions.

The Luck of the Draw by Fougasse published Methuen 1936 and subsequent editions

